

CLASS DESCRIPTIONS

Art and Craft with Dorie

Use natural materials and imagination to create functional art for the home. Projects have included handmade and dyed aprons, woven potholders and seasonal decorative crafts.

Theater Arts with Dorie

Experience deep immersion in a story through role play, trying on different characters, and building props. Develop the memory by learning a role and it's lines. This class culminates in the performing of a play for the community.

Tuesday pm 1-3 theatre rent free. Develop relations

Farming and Permaculture with Erin

Come farm on one of the oldest organic farms in California, Fairview Gardens. With hands on experiences, we will learn about our connection to the land, the plants and our food sources, which will include: organic gardening, natural life cycles, creating and utilizing field guides, nutrition, journaling, decomposition, fun and collaborative, meaningful work.

Folk Dancing with Jim and Lia

A social experience of moving in unity. We will attune our ears to live music while coordinating our motions to move in rhythm with the group. Learn traditional dances and create new traditions. Family participation is welcome.

Music with Jim

This class joins the creative heart forces with the qualities of rhythm, tone, and unity. Learn music first by developing the listening ear and the memory, progressing towards using the language of musical notation. Experience a variety of musical instruments and musical styles while strengthening the breath and the hands.

Percussion with Jim

This class explores specific rhythmic modes of world music traditions. As percussion is a creative experience of numbers, children embody arithmetic with their whole being. Finger dexterity, internal rhythm, and the ability to listen attentively are some of the results of the joy and dynamism of learning percussion.

Outdoor Adventures with Lia

Become intimately connected with the natural landscape of Santa Barbara. Each month will be at a new location where we will forage, track, develop awareness skills and play in nature's playground.

Spanish with Jenn

Through song, games and recitation, we will learn to sow the seeds of Spanish language. In this way we will develop an interest in other cultures while deepening our capacity for thinking and exploring other points of view.

Handwork with Julia

Engage in the creation of useful, artistic, handmade goods, by learning such traditional crafts as knitting, crocheting, and sewing. Nimble hands and fingers create a sense of harmony, proportionality, and right relationship that one associates with the arts, while developing the vital qualities of patience, determination, and creativity.

Woodworking with Bill

What a gift to use our hands, heads, and hearts to perform purposeful tasks. This class meets at Fairview Gardens where, together, we join forces to create artistic and useful objects, working with the qualities of wood, hand tools, and our own ingenuity. Woodworking facilitates aesthetic development, bodily strength, the growth of will forces, and practical mathematics.
